FROM : [redacted] STAT
SUBJ : [redacted] test program in OCD, Meeting concerning. 50X1

1. On 13 October 1954 the writer discussed the subject program with [redacted] STAT [redacted] Chief Machine Division, OCD. The purpose of the discussion was STAT to determine whether OCD had a continuing requirement for ^{such} facsimile cyphering devices, and to solicit the aid of OCD in completing the current tests on the [redacted] equipment. 50X1

2. [redacted] stated that Dr. Andrews, AD/OCD, did not feel that an STAT immediate requirement existed for the equipment in OCD, but that should the Agency decentralize, the need would most certainly arise. [redacted] also STAT stated that Dr. Andrews recognized the merit in the present program and that OCD would lend all possible cooperation toward bringing the program to a successful conclusion.

3. With reference to a sixty day test program recommended by NSA, [redacted] STAT
[redacted] stated that he would be willing to commit the Machine Division to STAT four man-hours per day, consistent with the current work load. This would make it possible to start the equipment in the morning, print for about an hour, allow the equipment to carry traffic throughout the day, but not print again until the last hour of the working day. In this manner a running check can be made on the equipment without consuming large amounts of paper. OCD does not desire to have the equipment carry live traffic during the tests.
